

Sing the Alphabet Boogie

What do you do?

Have fun teaching your child the letters of the alphabet by singing this ABC song together. Try this fun ABC rap, complete with interactive body movements (do the ones that you and your child enjoy!)

Alphabet Boogie Rap

A is for airplane flying in the sky

hold your arms out like airplane wings and walk around the room

B is a butterfly soaring high palms facing you one hand over the other, clasp your thumbs together and wiggle your fingers

C is a cat purring and having a big stretch stretch like a cat

D is a dog who likes to play fetch bark like a dog

E is for elevator that climbs to the top crouch down and slowly stand up like an elevator would go up

F is a frog who goes hippity hop

hop like a frog

G is for garbage truck driving down the street “vroom vroom” like the truck

H starts Happy Birthday let's have a yummy treat sing the Happy Birthday song and blow out pretend candles

I is an ice cream cone—one scoop or two build an imaginary ice cream cone and eat it

J is for jelly bean, my favourite is you give your child a hug

K is for kettle that whistles when ready sing the I'm A Little Teapot song with the actions

L is for laughing, what you do with your teddy tickle your child

M for Mommy who gives kisses and love
give your child a kiss

Singing with your child is a great literacy activity—it's a fun way to develop a strong family bond while learning new words. By teaching rhymes, rhythms and patterns, singing is strongly connected to language skills.

For more fun activities you can share with your children, visit

FamilyLiteracyFun.ca

Proudly supported by

Natrel

Alphabet Boogie Rap

N is for night, tucked into bed like a glove hold and rock your child in your arms

O starts the word octopus with eight long arms count to eight on your child's fingers

P is for pigs that you find on the farm
say "oink oink oink"

Q is quiet when taking a nap put your hands together and rest your head on them like you're sleeping

R is for robin whose wings go flap put your arms out like a bird and flap them up and down

S is a sandwich, it's yummy with cheese give an imaginary sandwich half to your child and each take a bite

T is for a T-rex, which is taller than trees stomp around the room like a T-rex

Under an umbrella is where you stay dry open your imaginary umbrella and hold over your head

V is a volcano with lava that does fly make your hands into fists, bring them over your head, then open your hands and say "poof" like lava coming out of the volcano

W is for watermelon that you eat in June hold an imaginary watermelon piece and eat it

X begins xylophone
that plays a nice tune sing "la la la la la"

Y is for yawning, when the stars are shining bright yawn

Z is for sleeping and to you a good night say "zzzzzzz" and give your child a big kiss

Create your own song using your child's name!

This helps young children to recognize their names and older children identify the letters in their name.
Here's an example with the name Emma:

Emma is sitting in a funny pose,

Mommy is smiling and tickling her toes.

Many giggles I hear from my girl.

Angel Emma that I pick up and twirl.

For more fun activities you can share
with your children, visit

FamilyLiteracyFun.ca

Proudly supported by